OLYMPIC VENUES IN LONDON

By Katherine Baxter & Steven Potter

What makes the Olympics in London so different from any previous Olympics is its use of the whole city throughout the Games. No spectators in central London will ever be more than 30 minutes away from an Olympic venue, with some of the capital's most iconic landmarks acting as a backdrop for the greatest show on earth. Most events will take place at the ground-breaking 2.5sq km Olympic Park in Stratford, a mere seven minutes away from the city centre by Olympic Javelin train. Other events will be scattered around in all directions at key venues in town or a short distance away. Some 9.6 million tickets have been issued for the Olympics - but the major ticket will be London itself, with the capital set to come alive throughout the summer.
